PEER Chain Names Dan Troxell New Fulfillment Center Manager

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

WAUKEGAN, IL – October 17, 2016 – PEER Chain Company, the family-owned and personally managed leading industrial chain provider, is excited to announce the promotion of Dan Troxell to the position of Fulfillment Center Manager.

“Dan has consistently risen to new challenges during his time at PEER Chain,” says Spungen. “He always was committed to developing WOW solutions for our customers, and I know he’ll bring that same dedication to this new position of Warehouse Manager.”

Troxell started at PEER Chain in 2010 in a Sales Support role. Prior to joining PEER Chain, he served in the U.S. Marine Corps., participating in Operation Desert Shield/Desert Storm in the early ‘90s. Troxell’s prior work experience includes Warehouse Management, Production Management, Distribution WHSE/Delivery, Inventory Management, Process Improvement and Quality Control.

“I’m very excited and grateful to begin this new chapter at Peer in the warehouse. This opportunity would not be possible without all the people around me including the outside people as well,” Troxell says. “In my experience, I’ve truly come to believe that there is no ‘I’ in team, and the success of the company only comes from recognizing the value of every position from the top to the bottom.”

PEER’s personal commitment is to pinpoint our customer’s best solution. With years’ experience serving customers in the industrial supply industry, Troxell is set to deliver on the promises of product genius and over-the-top service to keep our customers running.
